HEXAGRAM 61 - Chung Fu - Inner Truth

Above SUN THE GENTLE, WIND Below TUI THE JOYOUS, LAKE

The wind

- blows over the lake and
- stirs the surface of the water.

Thus visible effects of the invisible manifest themselves.

The hexagram consists of

- firm lines above and below, while
- it is open in the center.

This indicates

a heart free of prejudices, and therefore

open to truth.

On the other hand,

each of the two trigrams has a firm line in the middle; this indicates the force of inner truth in the influences they represent.

The attributes of the two trigrams are:

- above, gentleness, forbearance toward inferiors;
- below, Joyousness in obeying superiors.

Such conditions

create the basis of a mutual confidence that makes achievements possible.

The character fu ("truth") is actually the picture of a bird's foot over a fledgling.

It suggests the idea of brooding.

An egg is hollow.

The light-giving power must work to quicken it from outside, but there must be a germ of life within,

if life is to be awakened.

Far-reaching speculations can be linked with these ideas.

THE JUDGMENT

INNER TRUTH. Pigs and fishes.

Good fortune.

It furthers one to cross the great Water.

Perseverance furthers.

Pigs and fishes are

- the least intelligent of all animals
- and therefore
- the most difficult to influence.

The force of inner truth must grow great indeed before its influence can extend to such creatures.

In dealing with persons

- as intractable and
- as difficult to influence
- as a pig or a fish,

the whole secret of success depends on finding the right way of approach.

One must first

- rid oneself of all prejudice and, so to speak,
- let the psyche of the other person act on one without restraint.

Then

one will

- establish contact with him,
- understand and gain power over him.

When

a door has thus been opened,

the force of one's personality will influence him.

If in this way

one finds no obstacles insurmountable,

- one
 - can undertake even the most dangerous things, such as crossing the great water, and
 - succeed.

But

it is important to understand upon what the force of inner truth depends.

This force is not identical with

- simple intimacy or
- a secret bond.

Close ties may exist also among thieves;

it is true that such a bond acts as a force

- but, since it is not invincible,
- it does not bring good fortune.

All association on the basis of common interests holds only up to a certain point.

Where the community of interest ceases,

- the holding together ceases also, and
- the closest friendship often changes into hate.

Only when

- the bond is based on what is right, on steadfastness,
- will it remain so firm that it triumphs over everything.

THE IMAGE

Wind over lake: the image of INNER TRUTH.

Thus

the superior man

discusses criminal cases

In order to delay executions.

Wind stirs water by penetrating it.

Thus

the superior man,

when

obliged to judge the mistakes of men,

- tries to penetrate their minds with understanding,
- in order to gain a sympathetic appreciation of the circumstances.

In ancient China,

the entire administration of justice was guided by this principle.

A deep understanding that knows how to pardon was considered the highest form of justice.

This system was not without success, for its aim was to make so strong a moral impression that there was no reason to fear abuse of such mildness.

For it sprang not from weakness

but from a superior clarity.

THE LINES

Nine in the second place means:

A crane calling in the shade.

Its young answer it.

- I have a good goblet.
- I will share it with you.

This refers to the involuntary influence of a man's inner being upon persons of kindred spirit.

The crane need not show itself on a high hill.

It may be quite hidden when it sounds its call;

yet its young

- will bear its note,
- will recognize it and give answer.

Where

- there is a joyous mood,
- there a comrade will appear to share a glass of wine.

This is the echo awakened in men through spiritual attraction.

- Whenever a feeling is voiced with truth and frankness,
- whenever a deed is the clear expression of sentiment, a mysterious and far-reaching influence is exerted.
- At first it acts on those who are inwardly receptive.

But

the circle grows larger and larger.

The root of all influence lies in one's own inner being:

- given true and vigorous expression in
 - word and
 - deed,
- its effect is great.

The effect is but the reflection of something that emanates from one's own heart.

Any deliberate intention of an effect would only destroy the possibility of producing it.

Confucius says about this line:

The superior man abides in his room.

- If his words are well spoken,
 - o he meets with assent at a distance of more than a thousand miles.
 - o How much more then from nearby!
- If the superior man abides in his room and his words are not well spoken,

- o he meets with contradiction at a distance of more than a thousand miles.
- o How much more then from nearby!
- Words
 - o go forth from one's own person and
 - o exert their influence on men.
- Deeds
 - o are born close at hand and
 - become visible far away.
- Words and deeds are the hinge and bowspring of the superior man.
- As hinge and bowspring move,
- they bring
 - o honor or
 - disgrace.
- Through words and deeds the superior man moves
 - o heaven and
 - o earth.
- Must one not, then, be cautious?

Nine in the fifth place means:

He possesses truth, which links together. No blame.

This describes the ruler who holds all elements together by the power of his personality. Only when

- the strength of his character is so ample that he can influence all who are subject to him,
- is he as he needs to be.
- The power of suggestion must emanate from the ruler.
- It will
 - firmly knit together and
 - unite all his adherents.

Without this central force,

all external unity

- is only deception and
- breaks down at the decisive moment.

MOVING HEXAGRAM

HEXAGRAM 27 – I - The Corners of the Mouth (Providing Nourishment)

Below CHEN THE AROUSING, THUNDER

This hexagram is a picture of an open mouth;

- above and below are the firm lines of the lips, and
- between them the opening.

Starting with the mouth,

through which we take food for nourishment,

the thought leads to nourishment itself.

Nourishment

- of oneself, specifically of the body, is represented in the three lower lines,
- while the three upper lines represent nourishment and care of others, in a higher, spiritual sense.

THE JUDGMENT

THE CORNERS OF THE MOUTH.

Perseverance brings good fortune.

Pay heed

- to the providing of nourishment And
- to what a man seeks To fill his own mouth with.

In bestowing care and nourishment, it is important

- that the right people should be taken care of and
- that we should attend to our own nourishment in the right way.

Ιf

- we wish to know what anyone is like,
- we have only to observe
 - on whom he bestows his care and
 - what sides of his own nature he cultivates and nourishes.

Nature nourishes all creatures.

The great man fosters and takes care of superior men, in order to take care of all men through them.

Mencius says about this:

If

- we wish to know whether anyone is superior or not,
- we need only observe what part of his being he regards as especially important.

The body has

- superior and inferior,
- important and unimportant parts.

We

- must not injure important parts for the sake of the unimportant,
- nor must we injure the superior parts for the sake of the inferior.
- He who cultivates the inferior parts of his nature is an inferior man.
- He who cultivates the superior parts of his nature is a superior man. 1

THE IMAGE

At the foot of the mountain, thunder: The image of PROVIDING NOURISHMENT.

Thus the superior man is

- careful of his words And
- temperate in eating and drinking.

"God comes forth in the sign of the Arousing" 2: when in the spring the life forces stir again, all things come into being anew.

"He brings to perfection in the sign of Keeping Still": thus in the early spring, when the seeds fall to earth, all things are made ready.

This is an image of providing nourishment through

- movement and
- tranquility.

The superior man takes it as a pattern for the

- nourishment and
- cultivation of his character.

- Words are a movement going from within outward.
- Eating and drinking are movements from without inward.

Both kinds of movement can be modified by tranquility.

For

tranquility

- keeps the words that come out of the mouth from exceeding proper measure, and
- keeps the food that goes into the mouth from exceeding its proper measure.
 Thus character is cultivated.
