HEXAGRAM 29 - K'an - The Abysmal (Water)

Above K'AN THE ABYSMAL, WATER

Below K'AN THE ABYSMAL, WATER

This hexagram consists of a doubling of the trigram K'an. It is one of the eight hexagrams in which doubling occurs. The trigram K'an means a plunging in.

A yang line

- has plunged in between two yin lines and
- is closed in by them like water in a ravine.

The trigram K'an is also the middle son.

The Receptive

- has obtained the middle line of the Creative, and thus
- K'an develops.

As an image it represents water,
the water that

- comes from above and
- is in motion on earth in streams and rivers,
giving rise to all life on earth.

In man's world K'an represents

- the heart,
- the soul locked up within the body,
- the principle of light inclosed in the dark - that is, reason.

The name of the hexagram, because the trigram is doubled,
has the additional meaning,
"repetition of danger."

Thus the hexagram is intended to designate

- an objective situation to which one must become accustomed,
- not a subjective attitude.

For danger due to a subjective attitude means either

- foolhardiness or
- guile.

Hence too a ravine is used to symbolize danger;

it is a situation in which a man is in the same pass as the water in a ravine, and,
like the water,

- he can escape if
- he behaves correctly.

THE JUDGMENT

The Abysmal repeated.

If you are sincere,

- you have success in your heart, And
- whatever you do succeeds.

Through repetition of danger we grow accustomed to it.

Water sets the example for the right conduct under such circumstances.

- It
 - flows on and on, and
 - merely fills up all the places through which it flows;
- it
 - does not shrink from any dangerous spot nor from any plunge, and
 - nothing can make it lose its own essential nature.
- It
 - remains true to itself under all conditions.

Thus likewise,

- if one is sincere when confronted with difficulties,
 - the heart can penetrate the meaning of the situation.

And

- once we have gained inner mastery of a problem,
 - it will come about naturally that the action we take will succeed.

In danger all that counts is really

- carrying out all that has to be done – thoroughness - and
- going forward, in order not to perish through tarrying in the danger.

Properly used,

danger can have an important meaning as a protective measure.

Thus

- heaven has its perilous height protecting it
 - against every attempt at invasion, and
- earth has its mountains and bodies of water,
 - separating countries by their dangers.

Thus also rulers make use of danger to protect themselves

- against attacks from without and
- against turmoil within.

THE IMAGE

Water

- flows on uninterruptedly and
- reaches its goal:

The image of the Abyssal repeated.

Thus the superior man

- walks in lasting virtue And
- carries on the business of teaching.

Water reaches its goal by flowing continually.

It fills up every depression before it flows on.

The superior man follows its example;

he is concerned that goodness should be

- an established attribute of character rather than
- an accidental and isolated occurrence.

So likewise in teaching others everything depends on consistency, for it is only through repetition that the pupil makes the material his own.

THE LINES

0 Nine in the second place means:

The abyss is dangerous.

One should strive to attain small things only.

When

we are in danger

we ought not to attempt to get out of it immediately,

regardless of circumstances;
at first
we must content ourselves with not being overcome by it.
We must

- calmly weigh the conditions of the time and
- be satisfied with small gains,
because for the time being a great success cannot be attained.

A spring

- flows only sparingly at first, and
- tarries for some time before it makes its way into the open.

Six in the third place means:

- Forward and backward,
- abyss on abyss.

In danger like this,

- pause at first and
- wait,

Otherwise you will fall into a pit in the abyss.

Do not act in this way.

Here every step, forward or backward, leads into danger.

Escape is out of the question.

Therefore

- we must not be misled into action, as a result of which
 - we should only bog down deeper in the danger;disagreeable as it may be to remain in such a situation,
- we must wait until a way out shows itself.

HEXAGRAM 39 – Chien - Obstruction

Below KEN KEEPING STILL, MOUNTAIN

The hexagram pictures

- a dangerous abyss lying before us and
- a steep, inaccessible mountain rising behind us.

We are surrounded by obstacles;

at the same time, since the mountain has the attribute of keeping still, there is implicit a hint as to how we can extricate ourselves.

The hexagram represents obstructions that appear in the course of time but that can and should be overcome.

Therefore

all the instruction given is directed to overcoming them.

THE JUDGMENT

OBSTRUCCION.

- The southwest furthers.
- The northeast does not further.
- It furthers one to see the great man.

Perseverance brings good fortune.

The southwest is the region of retreat, the northeast that of advance.

Here

an individual is confronted by obstacles that cannot be overcome directly.

In such a situation

it is wise

- to pause in view of the danger and
- to retreat.

However,

this is merely a preparation for overcoming the obstructions.

One must

- join forces with friends of like mind and
- put himself under the leadership of a man equal to the situation:

then

one will succeed in removing the obstacles.

This requires the will to persevere

just when one apparently must do something that leads away from his goal.

This unswerving inner purpose brings good fortune in the end.

An obstruction that lasts only for a time is useful for self-development.

This is the value of adversity.

THE IMAGE

Water on the mountain:

The image of OBSTRUCTION.

Thus the superior man

- turns his attention to himself And
- molds his character.

Difficulties and obstructions throw a man back upon himself.

While

- the inferior man
 - seeks to put the blame on other persons, bewailing his fate,
- the superior man
 - seeks the error within himself, and through this introspection
- the external obstacle becomes for him an occasion for
 - inner enrichment and
 - education.
